

From the desk of SANTA CLAUS,

Dear

Christmas is almost here! I bet you are excited to open presents and celebrate with your family. The elves and I have been very busy making toys and getting ready for our big sleigh ride.

I know that you have been a good kid this year, and I also know that you are allergic to

Did you know that some of my elves are allergic to those things too? I'd love your help in making them some cookies or treats that I can take back to the North Pole for them to enjoy. Leave them out for me on Christmas Eve and I'll make sure that the elves get them on Christmas morning. They will be so happy!

Thank you for your help,

Love,

Santa

P.S. Rudolph and the reindeer get really hungry from flying all over the world. Would you also leave some carrots out for them?
